

Open Rank Faculty Search Rosenstiel School Atmospheric Sciences

The Rosenstiel School of the University of Miami is a world leader in Earth sciences. Fundamental research is combined with an emphasis on interdisciplinary science and understanding of the impacts of natural disasters and global environmental change. The Rosenstiel School strives for academic excellence while committed to fostering a culture of belonging, where everyone feels valued and has the opportunity to add value. Through values of Diversity, Integrity, Responsibility, Excellence, Compassion, Creativity, and Teamwork (DIRECCT) the RSMAS community works together to create an environment driven by purpose, excellence, community, and service.

The Rosenstiel School invites applications to the Atmospheric Sciences Department as part of a cluster hiring initiative to appoint up to five tenured or tenure-track faculty members, one per Department who meet the following qualifications:

- Faculty who bring visibility, renown, and additional impact to the RSMAS Department in Atmospheric Sciences;
- Faculty who add to the long-standing goal of increasing diversity within our Department

Applications will be considered at the Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor ranks.
